LUKOIL BECAME GENERAL SPONSOR OF GLOBAL LUBRICANT WEEK

LLK-International (a 100% subsidiary of PJSC LUKOIL) acts as the Genera Sponsor of the XI "Global Lubricant Week 2021" conference hosted by RPI Company. This year the conference will be held online for the first time.

The largest industry conference in Europe is an important event for the oil refinery sector and a venue for professional experience exchange between Russian and foreign specialists in the sphere of lubricants production and application. The conference gathered over 500 representatives of leading international and Russian companies, including original equipment manufacturers, industrial enterprises, lubricants manufacturers and research companies.

LUKOIL experts from Europe, Asia and Russia will make reports and take part in the discussions on such issues as alternative technologies aimed to replace combustion engines. In addition, they will share their experience in the development of service solutions and cooperation with industrial clients.

As part of the conference, the participants will discuss the current trends and the prospects for the development of lubricants market in the reality of today's world. Implementation of "green" technologies and energy transition as well as prospects for the development of mobility solutions are among other issues to discuss.

The livestream of the Conference will take place on October 20-21 at the www.lubesweek.com online platform.
